

Cargill:

Stop Destroying Rainforests, Communities & our Global Climate!

Dear Mr. Gregory Page, CEO, Cargill:

WE THE UNDERSIGNED call on Cargill, the largest supplier of palm oil from Southeast Asia and the Pacific to the United States, to stop destroying tropical rainforests, displacing forest dependent communities and accelerating global climate change for soy and palm plantations.

We are very concerned about the ongoing impacts caused by Cargill and its suppliers' plantations in tropical rainforest countries around the world, notably: clearing and burning of rainforests; loss of critical habitat for endangered species, like the orangutan, and the displacement of Indigenous people and small farmers.

Therefore, we call on Cargill to adopt and implement an overarching global forest policy to fully address these and other related issues, to minimize your social and environmental footprint around the world, and to make Cargill a leader in protecting forests, forest dependent communities and the global climate. We expect Cargill's suppliers to be held accountable to this policy as well, or face contract cancellations.
